

It's a Simple Test!

Did you know?

Tiffany: Hey, Diane, what's up? Do you want to get together after work?

Diane: I can't. I have an OB/GYN appointment.

Tiffany: Why? Is something wrong?

Diane: No, everything's good. It's just time for my Pap test. By the way, when was your last Pap test?

Tiffany: I'm not sure.

Diane: You need to get a Pap test on a regular basis. It's a simple test that looks for early signs of cervical cancer!

Tiffany: I know what you are saying, but I don't want to do it.

Diane: Come on! Women need regular Pap tests.

Tiffany: I don't know. I had a Pap test once. I was so embarrassed.

Diane: Tiffany, it's time for you to start taking care of yourself! There are even places to get free or low-cost tests.

Tiffany: You're right – I know I really should get this test. What's the number? I'll call today.

- A Pap test can find problems before they become cancer.
- If you have spotting between your periods, an unusual discharge from your vagina or unusual menstrual bleeding, see your doctor.
- Human Papilloma Virus (HPV) puts you at high risk for cervical cancer and condoms don't protect you.
